MINERS' HEADS IN SESSION ALL DAY AND NIGHT

Divergence Of Opinion Prevents Reaching Any Conclusion

Attorney General Declares Orders Of The Union Are Not Above The Law

Indianapolis, Nov. 10. — After more than ten hours of debate, executives of the United Mine Workers of America, who met here today, had reached no agreement as to whether they would comply with the order of Federal Judge Anderson to call off the strike of coal miners, and at midnight they were still in session. Shortly before midnight, John L. Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, left the hall for a few minutes and remarked that it looked like an all-night session. It was the general belief that no formal action would be taken before tomorrow. In view of the provision of the court order instructing the miners' chiefs to present to the court for approval their order withdrawing the strike all of October 15 within 72 hours, it was predicted tonight that no announcement would be made by the miners before the expiration of that time. The court order was signed at 12:25 p. m., Saturday, therefore the union officials must report to the court by that time tomorrow.

Wide Divergence Of Opinion.

Although today's meeting was closed and extraordinary measures were taken to prevent the proceedings from becoming public, it was ascertained from disconnected remarks dropped by delegates that the discussion brought out wide divergence of opinion as to what course the coal workers would pursue with regard to the order of the court.

At 10:30 o'clock tonight, delegates intercepted in the corridors adjoining the convention hall said that the miners' general committee expected to stay in continuous session until some decision was reached, and one man predicted this would not occur before 11 a. m. It was stated, however, that the delegates agree it was not likely any statement would be made before tomorrow.

Thirty-three members of the general committee were served with copies of the temporary injunction issued by Judge Anderson last Saturday by United States Marshal Mark Storen and his deputies late this afternoon. The men served with the writs to wear those named in the original restraining order, but had not been served. With the exception of Frank Harrington, president of the Illinois district, who was intercepted on the street, the men named in the injunction were served in the convention hall. The writs served today are returnable in the United States district court here Dec. 1 while the original writs in the restraining order were returnable Nov. 20.

Palmer Warns Miners of Supremacy of Law

Washington, Nov. 10. — Solemn warning was given the United Mine Workers of America tonight by Attorney General Palmer that resolutions of conventions and orders of officers of organizations are not above the law.

Formal and final declaration of the government's policy on dealing with the coal strike was announced by the attorney general while officers of the miners' organization at Indianapolis struggled with the question how to answer the court's blunt and imperative demand to rescind the strike order.

Describing the strike as a plain violation of a federal statute, Mr. Palmer, speaking with full authority of the government, announced that all the officers of the United States would be ordered to enforce the mandate of the court.

Although no reference was made in the attorney general's statement to the pronouncement of organized labor supporting the miners and demanding withdrawal of injunction proceedings, it was evident that Mr. Palmer had that document in mind and official Washington accepted his declaration to mean that refusal of the miners to cancel their strike order would mean a fight to the bitter end.

Attorney General Palmer's Statement.

Reiterating that the strike of bituminous coal miners is in violation of the law, Attorney General Palmer declared in emphatic terms that the law would be enforced.

The statement of the attorney general, which was construed as a reply to the position of organized labor as set forth last night by the American Federation of Labor's executive council, follows:

"The coal strike is a plain violation of a federal statute. This has been the government's position from the start. The President declared it to be unlawful and the court, after full hearings, has now declared it to be unlawful.

"All I can say is that the law will be enforced. This same law has been enforced many times and the department of justice has other cases now pending which were brought under it. The merits of the controversy between the operators and the miners are not involved in the court proceedings at Indianapolis, neither is the right to strike.

"Nothing that the government has done is intended or designed to have any effect upon the recognized right of labor to organize, to bargain collectively through its unions, and, under ordinary industrial conditions, to walk out by concerted action.

"The proposal by the President of a peaceful settlement of the matters at issue between the operators and the miners, through negotiation or arbitration, was rejected, and the government, therefore, faced the alternative of submitting to the demands of a single group to the irreparable injury of the whole people or of challenging the assertion by that group of power greater than that of the government itself.

"Confronted with such a choice, the government's duty was perfectly clear; it refused to surrender to the dictation of a group and it proposed to assert its power to protect itself and the people, whom it is designed to serve. The government is in no way a respecter of persons in the enforcement of the law. Those who conceive that the resolutions of a convention or the orders of the officers of any organization in the country, whether labor organizations or any other, are superior in authority to the law of the land, will find themselves mistaken.

Hopes for Peaceful Settlement.

"I assume that the order of the court will be obeyed. The President's offer for a peaceful settlement is still open and I hope that the miners and operators will now get together and settle their controversy."

There was no attempt in official or labor circles tonight to conceal the feeling that the situation was extremely grave and getting beyond the question of a coal strike. This was due to the belief that the miners apparently were not of one mind on the question of making quick reply to the court.

All day, word from the Indianapolis meeting was awaited with intense interest and anxiety. Some labor leaders had predicted that mandatory orders would not be complied with and that the strike order would stand until passed upon by the same delegates convention which arbitrarily fixed the date for the nation-wide walkout unless specific demands were granted by November 1.

Only a few reports came in from the coal fields and these showed the situation generally unchanged, with miners waiting to see what orders they would get from Indianapolis. Government plans went forward as heretofore, with the fuel administration and railroad administration working hand in hand to move coal and distribute it where most needed.

Reports that a roaring blizzard was sweeping out of the northwest was a disquieting bit of news received during the day, officials realizing that a week of cold weather would cut deeply into reserve coal stocks and make conditions critical unless the men returned immediately to work.

Gompers Reiterates Labor Stand in Dramatic Speech

Washington, Nov. 10. — Adjuring loyalty to a "temporary" administration which violates the principles of democracy, Samuel Gompers, speaking for American labor at a dinner given tonight for delegates to the International Federation of Trade Unions, declared that "we are tied to the administration, but we are free men and propose to exercise the freedom of our judgment."

Mr. Gompers told the representatives of labor that he did not believe that a true understanding of the coal miners' strike had reached the President because of his illness.

Responding to the American labor leader's address, Leon Jouhaux, leader of the French labor delegation to the International Labor conference, declared that "if the workers of the United States need the assistance of the workers of the other countries they will get it," as he added, "frontiers cannot separate the interests of workers and private interests cannot separate workers."

"We are engaged in the greatest work of today," said Mr. Gompers, "the greatest that has ever been entrusted to the common people of America—to secure right and justice and a better standard of living and the principles of freedom and humanity."

"Whenever and wherever there is an attempt made by the employers as employers or by the government as a government to depart from the fundamental principles of freedom and democracy, it is not only the right but the duty of the men and women of labor to stand up and protest regardless of what the consequences may be."

Continuing in a lower voice, the federation chief said:

"We are living in our own time as best we can, but our lives are just a passing instant to the continuity of civilization and the progress of the world, and what matters if you and I are placed in jail because we have attempted to uphold the principles of freedom and justice and democracy. It is better that we should have our own self-respect and hand down to the generations yet to come the principles of freedom and the worthiness to battle for freedom and to die than to live an inglorious life."

Proclaiming American labor to be in thorough accord with American principles and ideals, Mr. Gompers added:

"We are in accord with our government when we know that our government is following out a course of justice and freedom and of human development as expressed by the principles of democracy. When our administration fails to conform to these principles, and when our administration for the time being fails to stand for the principles of democracy, then we have no alternative but to assert that American justice must prevail against any temporary administration of the affairs of our country."

"We are tied to no administration. We are free men and we propose to exercise the freedom of our judgment and our conduct and to criticize or express ourselves in dissent from the policies pursued."

"We have faith in our cause. We believe that we are right. Aye, we are convinced that we are in the right, and the men and women of labor in America understand, and the men and women of freedom in the whole world understand, that in the attempt to impose upon our people a condition of affairs that is repugnant to the concepts of right and of justice and of democracy, we, the men and women of labor, will stand true to the highest principles of justice and the right of freedom and of right."

Delegates attending the dinner, at the suggestion of Louis M. Morones, Mexican representative, pledged their support to the United Mine Workers of America in the present strike.

CARS OF WHISKEY WRECKED.

Churchville, Nov. 10. — Six cars in a westbound New York Central freight train were detailed here about 9 o'clock this evening when a brake-beam on one of them broke. Three trucks were strewn with wreckage, forcing westbound trains to use the West Shore tracks and hampering eastbound traffic. The detailed cars were loaded with hams and grapes. Three cars in the train loaded with whiskey were closely guarded by railroad detectives.

DRYS ASK RECOUNT OF VOTES.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 10. — The courts may be called upon to decide whether Ohio voters upheld or repudiated the action of the state legislature in ratifying the federal prohibition amendment. With an apparent majority of 644 against ratification, Manager James A. White, of the Ohio dry federation, tonight made formal demand on the secretary of state for a recount.

YEOMAN HELD FOR BRIBERY.

New York, Nov. 10. — Arthur Imberman, a yeoman, charged with accepting bribes for the transfer of men in the naval reserve, was placed on trial today before a general court martial in the Brooklyn navy yard. It is alleged he solicited and received $100 for the transfer of Maurice Fisch, a seaman, from the receiving ship "Bay Breeze" to the fleet supply base in Brooklyn.

MYSTERY GROWS DEEPER.

Poughkeepsie, Nov. 10. — Three men of dark build and a ring of one hand found in the ruins of the Randall barge at Ferry's Cove, were added to the mystery in the case of Corporal John A. Card, who disappeared from a university in England, the body has thus far found, after which he will decide whether an inquest is necessary.

WHOLE NATION TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Million War Veterans Will Join In Many Patriotic Events

DAY OF 'SOLENN PRIDE'

President In Message To People Comments On Our Part In Great Conflict

New York, Nov. 10. — Armistice day, the first anniversary of that joyous date one year ago when all the world learned that the power of the Teutonic empires was broken, will be celebrated throughout America tomorrow. More than 1,000,000 veterans of the great war and the public generally will unite in commemorating Nov. 11, 1918, when the German delegates signed their names to the historic declaration that ended hostilities in the world's most stupendous conflict.

Wave of Joy Recalled.

Americans will recall the wave of joy, relief and thankfulness that swept through their hearts when the wires flashed the longed-for news that the armistice was signed at 11 o'clock that morning a year ago. Tomorrow they will have with them their millions of sons who survived. To others the day is hallowed to the memory of those thousands of America's sons who gave their lives to break the German dream of world domination and who now sleep in the battlefields where they fell.

Many unique and patriotic events will mark the day. At 11 a. m., the exact hour when the Germans sought a cessation of the fighting, there will be numerous reunions, followed by parades, singing, airplane flights, and sports to be followed by dinners and dances in the evening.

Ten states, Alabama, North Carolina, California, South Dakota, Oregon, Michigan, Massachusetts, Texas, Minnesota and Maryland, have designated the day as a legal holiday and in nearly all it will be celebrated with suitable exercises.

Millions Join in Songs.

Millions of voices throughout the United States are expected to join in patriotic songs for one hour from 11 a. m. until noon. This portion of the day's exercises was originated by the National Council of Women, which, in its convention at St. Louis, will swell the chorus of song when that hour is reached.

Prominent Americans will speak at many big gatherings, including the first national convention of the American Legion, whose sessions in Minneapolis opened today.

The famous Second division will hold its first annual reunion in Chicago. The American Flying club will give a banquet in New York tomorrow night to aviators who went overseas.

A program for the country-wide celebrations, prepared by the National Executive committee of the American Legion, will be observed, with modifications, in many places. It calls for dinners in honor of all war veterans, parades, flag raisings with pledges to the American colors, ceremonies of welcome to new citizens, public dancing, athletic sports, fairs and municipal bonfires and singing to close the day.

President Wilson Issues Armistice Day Message

Washington, Nov. 10. — As darkness fell over the national capital tonight, three huge illuminated crosses shone out from the high walls of the War Risk Insurance Bureau building, across Lafayette square from the White House, and the celebration of Armistice day, the first anniversary of the cessation of hostilities since the world war, began. The giant symbols were formed by light pouring from selected windows in the otherwise dark facades of the great structure and one of them looked directly down on the square. Official Washington will join tomorrow in celebrating the anniversary.

To the country at large, formal messages commemorating the day were sent out by President Wilson, members of his cabinet, and General Pershing.

Day of "Solemn Pride."

The President said to Americans the reflections of Armistice day would be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service and with gratitude for the victory, both because of the thing from which it has freed us and because of the opportunity it has given America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the councils of the nations.

The President's message follows: To my fellow-countrymen:

A year ago today our enemies laid down their arms in accordance with an armistice which rendered them impotent to renew hostilities, and gave to the world an assured opportunity to reconstruct its shattered order and to work out in peace a new

HOUSE VOTES TO UNSEAT BERGER

Milwaukee Socialist Convicted Under Espionage Law Is Ousted, 300 to 1

DEFENDS STATEMENTS

Berger Declares Events Since Armistice Have Justified His Attitude Toward War

Washington, Nov. 10. — Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, was denied his seat in the house of representatives today by an overwhelming vote, the house holding he was ineligible for membership because of his open opposition to the war. The vote to unseat Berger was 300 to 1. Representative Voight, Republican of Wisconsin, being the only member to support the Wisconsin Socialist either during the debate or on the roll call.

After denying the seat to Berger, the house declared that the seat was vacant, holding that Joseph P. Carney, the Democrat who contested Berger's election, did not receive a plurality in the election last year. Without a record vote, the house also directed Speaker Gillett to notify the Wisconsin governor of the vacancy in the state's delegation, so that a special election may be called to choose a new member.

Americanism Only Issue.

Berger appeared in the house soon after the session opened. Representative Dallinger, chairman of the special committee which investigated the case, said the only issue involved was that of Americanism.

"It is whether a man who in 1911 took oath as a member of this house to support the constitution and who, when this country declared war against the imperial German government, became the head and front of an organized conspiracy to hinder, obstruct and embarrass this government in its fight for existence, should be admitted to membership in this house," said Dallinger. "The committee is convinced upon all the facts and upon all the precedents in this house, that Victor Berger should be excluded from membership and that the question should now be determined by this house."

Soon after Berger began his statement to the house, there was much commotion and Speaker Gillett rapped for order several times.

Berger did not deny making the alleged seditious statements which led to his conviction and sentence to twenty years in federal prison.

Berger Says Claims Are Justified.

"Under the same circumstances," he said, "I would say and write them all over again, only I would make it a great deal stronger, because I have been justified by the events since the armistice when the war was practically ended."

Berger characterized the espionage act "as an infamous measure passed at the order of American plutocracy not to punish spies, but to hound citizens whose opinions differed from those of the administration."

When Berger concluded, cries of "vote" came from both sides of the house. In the disorder, Representative Rucker, Democrat, Missouri, moved to expunge Berger's speech from the congressional record.

"It is an outrage to print to circulate such stuff," said he.

"The house doesn't want to make a martyr of Berger," said Republican Leader Mondell, in moving to table Rucker's motion.

The Mondell motion carried 173 to 122.

To Call Special Election.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 10. — Governor E. L. Phillip, when notified tonight of Victor L. Berger's expulsion from congress, announced that he would call a special election within a few days to fill the vacancy.

and juster set of international relations. The soldiers and people of the European Allies had fought and endured for more than four years to uphold the barrier of civilization against the aggressions of armed force. We ourselves had been in the conflict something more than a year and a half. With splendid forgetfulness of mere personal concerns we remodeled our industries, concentrated our financial resources, increased our agricultural output, and assembled a great army, so that at the last our power was a decisive factor in the victory. We were able to bring the vast resources, material and moral, of a great and free people to the assistance of our associates in Europe who had suffered and sacrificed without limit in the cause for which we fought.

Out of this victory there arose new possibilities of political freedom and economic concert. The war showed us the strength of great nations acting together for high purposes, and the victory of arms foretells the enduring conquests which can be made in peace when nations act justly and in furtherance of the common interests of men. To us in America, the reflections of Armistice day will be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service and with gratitude for the victory, both because of the thing from which it has freed us and because of the opportunity it has given America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the councils of the nations.

PRINCE ENTERS UNITED STATES

Little Town Of Rouse's Point Wins Honor Of Being First To Greet Edward

LANSING MEETS HIM

No Formality Or Speechmaking In Connection With Welcome— Leaves For Washington

Rouses Point, Nov. 10. — Edward, prince of Wales, entered the United States tonight and received his first welcome to the republic at this little out-of-the-way New York town.

Officially, he was greeted by Secretary of State Lansing, with a benediction staff of admirals and generals in attendance, and the famous band of the 63rd United States Infantry blaring "God Save the King." Unofficially, he received a far more boisterous welcome from the 2,000 inhabitants of Rouses Point, who had waited patiently for hours in the bleak north wind to cheer the nation's guest, than one would anticipate.

The special train carrying the young prince crossed the Canadian border shortly after 8 o'clock and a few minutes later pulled into the station here. Secretary Lansing's train arrived an hour previously and the secretary and his staff were standing on the platform when the youthful heir to Britain's throne ran down the steps of his car with the eager step of a boy.

Band Plays National Airs.

His appearance was the signal for the band to break into the strains of the British national anthem, while the 150 picked men of the 63rd who formed the guard of honor, presented arms. The prince's arm snapped up in quick salute and he remained standing thus—a slim soldierly figure—until the last strains of the music had died away. A moment later his arm swung to the salute again as the band played the opening bars of "The Star Spangled Banner."

There was no formality or speechmaking in connection with the prince's initial welcome. He shook hands in turn with Secretary Lansing, Major General John Biddle, and others of the welcoming committee, laughingly apologizing for using his left hand, explaining that his right had been "done in" in Canada.

After introductions had ended, the prince inspected the guard of honor. When he reached the end of the front rank a surprise awaited him. Rouses Point had selected its 12 prettiest girls to hold aloft a canopy formed of two great American and British flags sewed together.

Shakes Hands With Girls.

"Oh, I must speak to the ladies afterwards," exclaimed the prince. He completed his inspection and returned to the flag holders, passing under the canopy and shaking hands with each in turn.

Then he had another surprise. It appeared as if Rouses Point had decided with one mind that they were going to obtain the distinguished visitor's autograph and equipped themselves with everything for that purpose from stub pencils and memorandum books to cabinet portraits and fountain pens. The secret service agents waved them back desperately, but one enterprising woman reached the steps of the car and to her delight the laughing prince bent down and wrote his name in the book.

Just before the train pulled out on its long run to Washington, a man darted out of the crowd and shouted: "Will you give me the honor of shaking hands with you? I'm a Canadian, wounded and gassed at Vimy."

The prince leaned over the rail and shook him heartily by the hand, and the train was off.

Comment of Baker and Pershing.

The exercise by the American people of practical patriotism during the war, General Pershing said in a statement tonight, was an avowal of their adherence to the principles of free government that will continue to have great influence upon the progressive thought throughout the world.

Secretary Baker said that while mourning its dead, the nation was grateful for their achievement and for that of their living brothers and that "in the name of both we may hope for an early accomplishment of the terms of peace that shall complete their work upon the battle fields of France."

DON'T WANT NAMES ON ROLL.

Port Chester, Nov. 10. — Disappointed because five out of six soldier candidates were defeated in the election last Thursday, 150 ex-service men tonight petitioned the board of village trustees to remove their names from the honor roll in Liberty Square. Action was deferred until next Wednesday.

SENATE'S FIGHT OVER ARTICLE X NEARING AN END

Reservation Opposed By Administration Likely to be Adopted

LOOK FOR VOTE TODAY

Yesterday's Debate Develops Another Spirited Clash Over Ireland's Status In League

Washington, Nov. 10. — The fight over Article X of the league of nations covenant neared a conclusion today in the senate, with developments promising adoption of a reservation wholly unacceptable to the administration.

During the day, the reservation drafted by the foreign relations committee, almost identical with one which President Wilson had announced he would regard as a rejection of the treaty, weathered all attempts to alter it and rallied repeatedly a support which seemed to insure its final acceptance. A vote is expected tomorrow.

The reservation provides that under the article, which pledges member states to preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and political independence of all other members, the United States shall assume no obligation to use its naval or military forces except on expressed authority of congress in every specific case.

Debate Causes Bitterness.

The debate, which summed up six months of senate discussion of the subject, reached a high pitch of bitterness several times during the day. It developed another spirited clash on the question of Ireland's status under the league, Senator Williams, Democrat of Mississippi, assailing Irish-Americans who oppose the league, and Senator Walsh, Democrat of Massachusetts, replying in a speech charging that the administration had undertaken to deprive him of all federal patronage because he did not support the treaty without qualifications.

Just before adjournment, the united Republican forces backing the reservation were almost split on a Democratic proposal to make the qualification even more sweeping in its terms. But the Republican leaders soon recovered their hold on the situation and declared that danger of amending the committee draft had passed.

The amendment on which the Republicans momentarily divided was introduced by Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, a staunch administration supporter, and would have added to the reservation a proviso that the United States "releases all members of the league from any obligation to it under Article X, and declines to participate in any proceedings by the council authorized thereby."

Split Was Near.

Republicans of the group irreconcilably opposed to the treaty quickly displayed their pleasure over the possibility of writing such a provision into the treaty. Three of them, Senators Borah of Idaho, Fall of New Mexico, and McCormick of Illinois, announced they would support the proposal, and the mild reservationists were thrown into a hurried conference as to the likelihood that it would prevail.

After some discussion, the irreconcilables, however, became suspicious that the Democrats, intending to vote against ratification of the treaty once the reservations were attached, had set out to make the qualification as obnoxious as possible. Senator Fall withdrew his previous announcement pronouncing the proposed amendment a "trick" and the senate adjourned without a vote but with the Republican forces apparently again solidified.

Earlier in the session, the Democrats had made another unsuccessful effort to break into the Republican ranks by proposing as a substitute for the committee reservation one which had been agreed on some weeks ago by the mild group of Republicans. Standing by their agreement to support the committee, however, all the mild reservationists voted against the substitute and it received only Democratic support.

EVANS MURDER TRIAL OPENS.

Binghamton, Nov. 10. — The trial of Newell E. Evans, a former Erie railroad detective, twice indicted for murder in the first degree in killing Vera Rickard, his sweetheart, and her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Rickard, by shooting at their home here May 4, during a fit of jealousy, opened here today. Donald Loomis, the only eye witness of the tragedy, was last August electrocuted on an electric light pole nearly in front of the cell window which confined Evans, while repairing an electric light wire.

MUCH SUGAR TO BE RELEASED

New Orleans, Nov. 10. — Approximately 15,000,000 pounds of sugar will be released for marketing with the unloading of steamers held here. Some of them for a month, unable to discharge cargoes because of the longshoremen's strike. The material back to work today, pending completion by the national adjustment commission on their wage demands.

CATCHING COLD? Mintol Often Prevents Pneumonia

It is surprising to read in the daily papers of the number of our forefathers and grandmothers who died of pneumonia, influenza, and bronchial affections. It impresses the writer with the fact that modern medicine has not advanced as far as it should. Just because grandmothers used old-fashioned mustard blisters for relieving colds and congested conditions is no sane reason why we should resort to the old antiquated methods when there have been such wonderful improvements in the treatment of all diseases and conditions that bring on disease. DEPRESSION RULES ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE

Stringent Money and More Acute Coal Strike Situation Cause Setback

New York, Nov. 10. — Stringent money and the more acute coal strike situation governed the stock market again today, the list, almost as a whole, experiencing further drastic depreciation, extreme losses extending 2 to 12 points among important issues.

Although last week's bank statement carried actual excess reserves to the largest total of the year, further indications of increasing rigidity were shown in all quarters of the money market. Call loans opened and renewed at 12 per cent, mounting in the last few minutes to 18 per cent, that being the final quotation of the session. There was eager bidding for time money at 7½ per cent, most loans being limited to the shorter maturities. Attention was directed anew to the steel strike by the publication of the United States steel tonnage figures for October. These disclosed a nominal gain of 188,000 tons in unfilled orders, a total which probably would have been several times increased but for labor conditions.

Much of the stock market "literature" issued over the week-end was extremely conservative when not decidedly bearish of tone, and doubtless prompted part of the day's further extensive liquidations.

Trading dwindled after the active first hour, alternate rallies and declines attending the early and intermediate hours, but assumed wider scope toward the end, final prices in a majority of cases being at or near the day's minimum quotations.

Such stocks as Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel, General Electric, and Transcontinental Oil rose superior to the general depression elsewhere, but fell back at the feverish close. Sales amounted to 1,450,000 shares.

Liberty bonds continued to weaken and other domestic issues were irregular with international. Total sales, par value, aggregated $16,350,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

One Mishap Brings Another.

Yesterday noon as mechanics were bringing a wrecked touring car into this city for repairs, a bolt which held the towing device in place sheared off while in front of The Oneonta, and dropped the front end of the car to the pavement. After quite a bit of jacking the car was raised, and the towing device replaced, after which the workmen took the car on to the garage.

It is understood that the damaged car belonged to a traveling salesman and that when a short distance from Cooperstown the steering gear broke, the car running into a stone wall and badly damaging the front end of the machine.

MAZOLA

FREE Every housewife should have a copy of the interesting 68-page Corn Products Cook Book. Full of information about good cooking and beautifully illustrated. Write for it today.

Remarkable Economy!

MAZOLA is used over and over again without transmitting flavors or odors from one food to another. It is not absorbed into foods. Because Mazola reaches "cooking heat" in half the time, forming a delicious crust about your food. This avoids soggy and greasy foods.

And remember—for shortening, as in pie crusts, etc., you use ¼ to ⅓ less Mazola than what your recipe calls for in other shortenings.

BREVITIES.

It develops that Hugo Haase, the German socialist leader, who was murdered last month as he was entering the Reichstag, had declared his intention to make important revelations that day concerning the Kaiser's government. It was announced that he was killed in a personal quarrel, but the above lately revealed fact makes this explanation of the killing doubtful. Evidently the spirit of the Hun is still militant, when it dares to be. The number of men of prominence in the progressive parties who have been assassinated in Europe in the past four years is remarkable.

Two strikes, or voluntary vacations, in New York city have come to an end within a week. One of the printers in the big publishing houses, the other of the longshoremen. It is notable that in both instances the men went out against the advice of their officials, and that they come back without compromise on the part of their employers, after losing more than a month's wages.

The importance of the half-cent is emphasized by the New York papers in commenting on the recently announced winter figures for bottled milk. The price is fixed at 17½ cents a quart, but as most families buy single quarts, the additional revenue in the city each week, on account of the added half-cent to 18, which buyers of single quarts must pay, will amount to $34,650. Here's a lesson in the value of the half-cent.

"We must be merciless," says the manifesto, issued by the Federation of Russian Workers in the United States, captured in a raid at Baltimore on Saturday. The signers of the document declare themselves atheists, communists and anarchists and propose among other things capture of all products, murder of officials, destruction of all fences and evidences of ownership, the blowing-up of barracks, the liberation of prisoners and the burning of public records and instruments of indebtedness. These are the people with whom the nation has to contend; and loyal Americans will be little more freely when the last of them is deported.

Caruso has returned from an operatic tour in Mexico and is enchanted with a country with skies of cerulean blue so like his beloved Italy and with his enthusiastic audiences in the capital city. Moreover, he did not see a bandit, and apparently did not wander from the beaten track. Perhaps if he had he might have entertained a different opinion of the southern republic. If a mere consul of the United States held for $125,000 ransom, who can compute what would have been demanded for the popular tenor of the Metropolitan Opera house?

Paris is restoring German music to concert programs as "one of the spoils of the conquered nation." Perhaps this is a good way to look at the matter. The trouble in New York city was not so much that the music was German as that it was sung in German before a German audience which was not concerned so much in the music itself as in forwarding a German propaganda.

High School Notes.
Monday afternoon. In assembly, two orations were given by students in recognition of the Speech Improvement campaign. The first was "Our Use of English," by Ethelyn Webster, and the second, "The English Language and the Foreigner," by Dorothy Rowe. Dr. Dunn made an address to the students concerning the War Savings Stamp drive.

On Friday evening Cobleskill plays the high school basketball team in the gymnasium.

The Senior class will hold its reception on Saturday evening of this week.

Two hundred and forty-six books were loaned from the school library during the month of October. This is an increase of 11 books over any other month of the year.

Delegates to State Federation.
Mrs. Roscoe C. Briggs, Mrs. Arthur E. Ford, Mr. George J. Dana and Mrs. David H. Mills, delegates from the Oneonta chapter to the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs left Monday for Elmira, where the convention is now in session.

Trenching and Retrenching.

Until the armistice was signed, the boys on the other side had to trench constantly to secure protection. You will have to retrench to keep the advantage they won. War Savings Stamps Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds are the right tools to use.

Red Cross Membership Drive.
Local headquarters of the Red Cross report they have secured in the past six months in this city and that all districts have not as yet reported. None of the outside districts coming under the jurisdiction of the local chapter have been reported as yet.

VARIOUS THINGS THAT HAPPEN

The Stolen Motor Car Industry.
The recovery by Chicago detectives of stolen automobiles valued at $50,000, and the location of other stolen cars worth as much more in a Michigan town, gives a new idea of the extent to which motor car larceny has developed. Automobile manufacture, of course, is a colossal business, and everything connected with it, even its criminal by-products, is on a corresponding scale of magnitude. Yet the apparent growth of automobile stealing into an organized industry of vast proportions is calculated to excite astonishment.

No doubt it is incumbent on every owner to be his own vigilance committee. But certainly the extraordinary growth of the criminal industry justifies extraordinary measures and drastic penalties to curb it.—[New York Herald.]

Reputation of Flag.

Rochester auctioneers have hung a new flag to the breeze. The time-honored use of the red flag as a symbol of this business was abandoned because of the dishonor done this symbol in its use as a standard by anarchists and open disloyalty to this government. Henceforth in Rochester an auction will be signaled by a blue flag.

This is of itself a matter of minor importance, of mere change of routine. But it is an instance of repudiation by American business of radicalism and as such it has major importance. The red flag has been made a symbol of repudiation of pledges by citizens of obligations incurred by accepting government protection by aliens, by some it is made a symbol of repudiation of the obligations of morality and decent regard of civilized rights. Therefore here where we stand for no such repudiations the red flag itself is repudiated.—[Rochester Post-Express.]

Socialism is Not American.

Looking the whole thing over, what reason have the Socialists in New York city for keeping up their fruitless agitation? It is not merely the city of New York that has registered opposition to their theories. All over the country Americans have shown their resolve that American institutions shall be conserved. Why do these persons, many of them the dupes of generous theory, persist in setting themselves against the irresistible determination of the American people, manifested this week all over the United States? Why do they not try to become American? Why do they refuse to assimilate themselves? They beat vainly against the solid forces of American conservatism. One sees the immediate sentence of personal ambition. But the rank and file, if there is any rank and file in Socialism; if there is any desire among these amateurs and their followers to have any influence on the American policy, should become American citizens in fact as well as in name. Socialism is not American.—[New York Times]

Amending Legal Definitions.

To catch up with the invention of airplanes and submarines it is proposed to amend the legal definition of ship in the United States statutes by adding "or under water or through the air." Why not, "in heaven above or in the earth beneath or in the waters under the earth"?—[Springfield Republican.]

How They Measure 'Em Now.
He told the salesman, "I want to buy a safe for my private residence." "Yes, sir," replied the knowing salesman, "we've just gotten in some beauties in the 12-quart home size."—[Exchange]

Conservation.

The Wife—Those trousers of yours look as if they were on their last legs.
The Husband—Well, they're not, Johnny will have to wear 'em after I'm done with 'em.—[Buffalo Commercial.]

Occasionally.

"Do people ever take advantage of the invitation to use this church for meditation and prayer?" a city verger was once asked. "Yes," he replied, "I caught two of 'em at it the other day."—[Blighly.]

Mr. Mumford Recovering.

The many friends of Asa Mumford of Oneonta Plains will be pleased to know that he is making a good recovery from the accident which he suffered about ten days ago when he was struck by an auto driven by a Chicago driver named McCann. Though one of his legs was fractured, Mr. Mumford was able to sit up yesterday.

Don't Give Extravagance a Chance.

When Marshal Foch dictated the terms of the armistice, he left no loop hole for trickery. If you give extravagance a chance you will lose the advantage that has been gained. Your Liberty bonds preserve your advantage.

Fined $10 for Assault, Third Degree.

Victor Kluster, who was arrested last Friday on a charge of assault in the third degree, and whose trial occupied most of the day Friday and yesterday, was fined $10 in city court this morning by Judge Holmes.

THE LUCEY-STEARN'S RECITAL

Large and Delightful Audience Gathers at Oneonta Theatre to Witness Unique and Effective Demonstration of New Edition.

Last evening, at the Oneonta theatre, a large and representative gathering of Oneonta citizens assembled as guests of M. C. Dies and L. D. Stadel, to hear a recital tendered to the music lovers of the city, in which Miss Leola Lucey, the sweet voiced soprano, and Osborne Stearns, the talented pianist, appeared, rendering in unison with a New Edition some of the selections which made the records of the two artists popular in every home where the marvelous instrument which Mr. Edison himself views as the capstone of his achievements.

The large throng which made standing room a premium embraced many of the gifted musicians of the city and all were delighted, not only with the singing of Miss Lucey and the adeptness with the flute of Mr. Stearns, but with the manner in which each sang, or played in such perfect accord with the records they had previously made. Frequently each artist would remain silent while a strain or more was being rendered and it was only the new adept ear if any that could detect when the natural voice was muted. Quite possibly Miss Lucey's most popular numbers were Roses of Memory and Jealous Moon.

In addition to the numbers the artists featured the excellent instrument kindly loaned by Dr. Arthur W. Cullen from his residence also was used in producing a re-creation of a piano solo by Andr. Benoit, a concert orchestra and a solo by a male voice. The audience was very attentive to the last, despite the fact that many stood during the entire recital. The occasion afforded ample opportunity to test the New Edition and it was the universal acclaim that in all essentials for the reproduction of the human voice and music, both vocal and instrumental, the instrument is well to the fore and increasing popularity is certain to follow the recital of last evening.

How Old Are You
By Your Hair?

You may be thirty in years, but if you are bald headed, gray, or your hair is dry, brittle, scraggly and ugly looking, people will surely take you to be many years older.

When your hair becomes faded, dry, streaked and scraggly, when it falls out badly and new hair cannot grow, the roots should be immediately treated and properly nourished. To do this quickly, safely and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parisian sage (Liquid form) which you can get at Geo. S. Stadel's and all good drug stores and toilet counters. It is guaranteed to abolish dandruff—stop scalp itch and falling hair and promote a new growth of money refunded. It is in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft, lustrous, easy to arrange attractively and appear better than it really is.

A massage with Parisian sage is a real delight—easy to use, not sticky or greasy, and delicately perfumed—an antiseptic liquid free from dangerous ingredients and guaranteed not to color the hair or scalp. If you want good looking hair and plenty of it, get Parisian sage. A little attention now helps insure beautiful hair for years to come.

Missionary Meeting at Guilford.

There will be a meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, for the Oneonta district, held at Guilford, Friday, November 14, with morning and afternoon sessions. A report will be given of the Jubilee meeting which was held at Boston, also the branch meeting in New York. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the auxiliaries of the Oneonta district.

Call Firemen to Give Banquet.

The Call Firemen of the fire department will hold a banquet and smoker tomorrow evening at the Windsor hotel, in honor of the members of that organization who were in the service, all of whom have returned. It is noteworthy that with as large a representation in the service as this organization had, there were no casualties among them. The firemen expect to give their returned members a very fine evening.

LOCAL MENTION.

—The Suwanee River Quartet, which sang in the season's concert and lecture course at Hobart, was in Oneonta yesterday on its way to Cobleskill, where it appeared last evening in the Hook and Ladder course.

—The list of the prize winners in the baby contest which was conducted Thursday and Friday of last week at the Oneonta Department store can be found this morning in the advertisement of that store in other columns of The Star.

—The city has completed repairs on the Rose avenue bridge and the street is now open for traffic. A sewer is being laid on Valleyview street, between Sixth and Eighth streets. Motorists are requested to drive carefully as the road is torn up and there is not much room.

—A class in Americanization for new Americans will be held at the River Street school each Tuesday and Thursday nights, beginning this evening, from 7.30 until 9.30. The class will be in charge of a competent instructor and all non-English speaking residents are urged to attend.

—Rev. Dr. A. Addison Jones, pastor of the Dutch Reformed church of Albany, will be the speaker at the Men's banquet at the First Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening of this week. Tickets are now on sale at the Hurd boot shop, H. M. Bard & Son's and the Wilber National bank.

—Dr. Dann spoke at the recital at the Oneonta theatre last evening and Prof. Fittelle at the Strand, calling attention to the drive for the sale of war securities. The aim is to dispose of $100,000 of the certificates and stamps in the city and all are urged to be ready with a generous response when the canvassers call.

—Members of the Fortnightly club will remember that the first meeting of the season will be held tonight at the home of Granville Rathbun on South Side. Supper will be served at 8.30, which is sufficient intimation to all to come early. The speaker is Prof. Anibal and his theme will be "Who Shall Vote?"

—The weekly Recreation club dance will be held in the High school gymnasium Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, under the competent direction of Harold Taylor of the High school faculty and Miss Love of the Normal faculty. All young people who enjoy dancing to good music and amid congenial surroundings should attend.

ITS ARMISTICE DAY

AS TOKEN OF GRATITUDE SUBSCRIBE FOR GOVERNMENT LOAN

Committees Named Which Will Visit Every Home for Memorial of Pledge for Thrift and War Savings Stamps and for Subscriptions for Treasury Certificates — Give Them Cordial Greeting — They Are Exponents of Thrift as Well as Government Representatives.

Before daylight one year ago this morning, the sound of the D. & H. shop whistle, presently joined by the whistles of other shops and factories, the ringing of church bells and the shouts of a little after of thousands of overjoyed men and women who, waiting at home only long enough to set every lamp burning, told that the armistice with the Germans had been signed, and that so far as actual fighting was concerned, the war was over. Addresses, bonfires, the playing of bands, the marching of hundreds in extempore parades, the waving of flags, the singing of patriotic songs, and uninterrupted cheers from everybody were features not only of the morning but of the entire day.

Through all this rejoicing there ran not only a note of triumph, but one of thankfulness that the fighting was over, that there was to be no more slaughter, and that the faces which so long had been turned eastward toward the foe would presently be turned westward, towards home.

All that was hoped for and fervently anticipated then has in a twelve-month come to pass. The first anniversary of Armistice day has been reached, and the soldiers, practically all of them, are home again, and the world over the work of reconstruction after war has begun. There will be rejoicing and formal celebrations in many places, and in Oneonta and in practically every community throughout the country the day will also be observed as the beginning of a drive in which, as one evidence at least of the gratitude which should fill every heart, opportunity will be given for subscription to the various forms of securities which the government is now offering, and which besides affording funds wherewith national obligations will be met, will inspire young, middle-aged and old alike to individual thrift. That this response will be general there is no doubt. Our citizens in the black days now happily behind learned the lesson of economy and of helpfulness so thoroughly that there is no danger of forgetting now.

In this thrift drive Oneonta is asked during the next year to save $100,000 and to invest the same in the three current forms of federal securities, which are the 25 cent thrift stamp, the 35 War Savings stamp and the $100 and $1,000 treasury certificates. With the two former all are familiar. The latter, or treasury certificates, sell for $84.40 and $844, respectively, and will pay their full face value at the date of maturity, which is January 1, 1924. This sum is equivalent to 4 per cent interest per annum, compounded quarterly. After six months, however they may be redeemed at their value at the time of redemption after ten days' notice. The sum asked from Oneonta citizens is not large, and doubtless it will promptly be met by her loyal, thrifty and generous citizens.

As previously has been announced, captains of districts, embracing in their number Charles J. Beams, I. J. Bookhout, F. F. Taylor, L. F. Rose, Bruce Colburn, P. R. Chambers, W. A. Holler, Kenneth Goldthwaite, C. R. Morris, W. D. Butler, Linn L. Gardner, Lewis Atwell and U. A. Ferguson, have been appointed. These captains have designated their workers, who begin today the canvass of the entire city and its environs, giving every person who desires to do so opportunity to subscribe. They will come as representatives of the government and with the authority of the Federal Reserve bank; and for them a cordial welcome is bespoken, not only because they represent our government, but because they present a plan for individual savings, and for the practice of that thrift which leads to competence.

CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Celebration Starts at Midnight and Lasts Till Early Morning—Paraders With Band Scramade Mayor, Who Makes Speech—Bonfires Lighted and Much Noise in General

Oneontans who went to sleep last night with the belief that Armistice day would pass uneventually here were awakened from their slumbers at midnight when pandemonium broke loose, the D. & H. shop whistle and a huge street demonstration, with a massed band, all joining to make the celebration a near rival to the memorable one of a year ago.

The demonstration had been secretly planned throughout the day by patriotic citizens, they being joined later by throngs who awakened from their slumbers, eagerly joined in making the first anniversary of peace one to be long remembered.

Upon the first blast from the shop whistle a huge massed band started out from the Municipal building, followed by a large number of citizens, who paraded to the home of Mayor Ceperley on Maple street, rousing the mayor from his bed and calling on him for a speech. Mayor Ceperley spoke of the occasion last year when the marchers paraded to his home, and stated that he was glad to see them all there again this year. He also stated that he was glad to see them all there again this year. He also said that he felt they were patriots every one of them and that they had due cause for rejoicing.

Large bonfires were lighted on Main street in several places, being made up of dry goods boxes and every inflammable piece of waste material that could be found. Automobiles ran through the streets with their cut outs open, and filled with people using every noise making device at their disposal, shot guns, revolvers, and with impromptu bands hastily made up with whatever instruments there were at hand; noise seemed to be the main proposition and there was lots of it. Motor cars also went through the more remote parts of the town, rousing out sleeping residents, many of whom joined in the celebration.

At about 1:05 a. m. a general fire alarm was turned in from the box at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. The awning on Greenberg's clothing store, in the Reynolds block, had caught fire from sparks blown from the bonfire on the corner and was destroyed. No other damage was done, despite the fact that the high wind carried sparks in all directions.

TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Oneonta Elks, Following Their Patriotic Instincts, Will Have Observance This Evening with Address by Dr. Russell.

Oneonta Elks, believing that Armistice day is an occasion when Americanism should be extolled and all that it signifies for the future of the world emphasized, will have fitting exercises at their club, Exalted Ruler Edward M. Ronan being enthusiastic over the occasion.

There will be a social hour early in the evening, and later a luncheon will be served. At the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month there will be a fitting program rendered the chief feature of which will be a patriotic address by Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell. There will also be selections by the Elks Quartet with solo numbers, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Each member has been invited to bring any friend whom he has expectations will later become affiliated with the organization, in order that the friend may come to understand for what the organization stands. The salute to the flag will be given and the exercises will be a fitting close for Armistice day.

MANY JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

Three Girls in City Court Yesterday Morning Charged with Delinquency—Police Department Acting in This Matter.

Three girls, all under the age of 15 years, were arraigned in police court Monday morning charged with juvenile delinquency, they having been found on the streets at a late hour Sunday evening by a patrolman. They were sent home by the officer and told to report at police headquarters yesterday morning. At their hearing they were paroled and given some sound advice by Judge Holmes, also being ordered to report at the police department twice a week.

The police have been having quite a bit of trouble in this way for some time past, with juveniles, especially girls under 18 years of age, roaming about the streets late at night. There has also been considerable complaint made to them about older men taking young girls out on joy rides in automobiles, and other offenses, which the police intend to stop.

Parents are partially to blame for this condition, as if they were keeping close watch of their children they would be in off the streets at an early hour and not wandering about to go wherever they like. This matter should be given close attention by the parents of young girls, as at this age they need more than at any other time in their life the careful guidance of their parents.

Police officers are making every possible effort to keep the younger element from the streets at night, and if the offenders persist in roaming about in the usual manner, they are sure to be picked up and undoubtedly will be charged with juvenile delinquency, a charge which when preferred, leaves the matter entirely with the law as to what will be done with those apprehended.

NEGROES JOIN TO SLAY ALL WHITES

Amazing Story of Harebrained Plot of a Negro Wallingford.

BUSINESS MEN GET FACTS

Deliberately Planned Insurrection of Negroes Against Whites in Arkansas Directed by Negro Who Saw Chance for Easy Money.

Helena, Ark.—How the "ignorance and superstition of a race of children was played upon for monetary gain and for the banding together of negroes to slay whites" was revealed in a statement issued here to the Associated Press by E. M. Allen, a member of the committee of seven, who has heard virtually all of the prisoners' confessions following the uprising in this section of Arkansas.

The committee of seven is composed of leading Helena business men. It had been authorized to carry on the investigation both by the municipal and county authorities and by Governor Brough of Arkansas.

The Marbrained Scheme. Mr. Allen's statement follows: "The present trouble with the negroes in Phillips county is not a race riot. It is a deliberately planned insurrection of the negroes against the whites, directed by an organization known as the Progressive Farmers and Household Union of America, established for the sole purpose of banding negroes together for the killing of white people."

"This union was started by Robert L. Hill, a negro, twenty-six years of age, of Winchester, Ark., who saw in it an opportunity of easy money. He had been a farmer all his life, but lately had been posing as a 'private detective' doing work in this and all foreign countries."

"He started his first union in April. He organized the 'Ratlo lodge' in May. He chose Ratlo because his mother happened to be living there."

"He told the darkies he was an agent of the government, and because the senators and representatives at Washington were white men and in sympathy with the white men of the South, it was impossible for the negroes to get the rights that had been promised them for service in the army, and so the government had called into existence this organization, which would be supported by the government in defense of the negroes against the white people."

"He told them that it was necessary for all members to arm themselves for the day when they should be called upon to attack their white oppressors. 'The slogan of the organization is 'We battle for our rights.' The password was 'We have just begun.'"

"He told them that those members who were unable to buy ammunition would be supplied from the government storehouse at Winchester."

How the Money Pooled In. "Negro men were charged $1.50 entrance fee and negro women 50 cents. At the second or third meeting he would bring Mr. V. E. Powell as ex-ambassador of the government in its work of registering the negroes."

"A certificate was filled out and signed by the doctor and given to each negro upon payment of 50 cents. This certificate was supposed to be the registration document."

"These negroes who had paid $5 to $25 were called in an advanced section of the organization upon payment of whatever sum (from $1.00) could procure in excess of $5 a certificate was given to the holder to attend the congresses of the union at Winchester and speak on the floor of the meeting regarding any questions brought up and to assist in keeping the Constitution of the United States from being questioned."

"Another form of extortion was to sell shares of $10 each to the negroes in a building to be erected at Winchester. Hill would find out what negroes possessed Thrift Stamps and Liberty Bonds and would issue a certificate stating that so many shares had been purchased at $10 a share, and all negroes buying five or more shares were told their names would be engraved in the building."

"In other words, he had so planned his campaign that any negro possessing from 50 cents to $50 was given an opportunity to invest in something connected with the union."

KAISER'S KITCHEN LIKE HIM

Shows No Sign of Ever Having Enjoyed Under Fire—Comes to Washington.

Washington.—To the collection of war trophies which the Smithsonian Institution is now gathering will be added shortly the field kitchen of William Hohenzollern, late Kaiser of Germany.

The kitchen followed the Kaiser to all the fighting fronts he visited, but shows no signs of damage, which is taken to indicate that it was kept far from the front, as did its imperial owner.

German prisoners of war loaded the kitchen—which is said to be the most elaborate affair of its kind—aboard a transport at St. Nazaire, France, and it is on its way to Washington, with a large collection of war material of different kinds.

No Home, Try Workhouse. London.—Upon notice of a vacancy in the workhouse through the death of a man taken there as a baby 70 years ago, a man asked the guards to admit his wife and children into the workhouse as paying guests. They would not get a house, he said. The request was refused.

DROPS HOHENZOLLERN ARMS

Germany Has New Eagle Without a Crown; Single Head; Talons Are Red.

Berlin.—Germany has a new escutcheon, from which the Hohenzollern arms have been eliminated. It consists of a black single-headed eagle on a golden yellow field. The "new" eagle, which has shed its erstwhile imperial crown and collar, is not a rampant bird and would look sedate enough in its sitting posture but for the color of its beak, tongue and talons, which are red.

Gold Came First

The authorities tell us that gold was the first metal to be mentioned in history.

STAMFORD IS ENTHUSED

Community Mass Meeting in Opera House Well Attended.

Stamford, Nov. 10. — The second of the community held in the opera house on Friday evening last, attended by an unexpectedly large audience and much enthusiasm was manifested. The high school orchestra, dispensed several numbers which were greatly appreciated.

Louis Coe, president of the Catekill-Kawangunk Mountain association, presided, and after a few well chosen remarks introduced Hon. A. J. McNaught as the first speaker of the evening. The judge, in prefacing his remarks, said that he was not there to make an address, but to talk as one of a family of Stamfordites to the rest of the family, and to discuss several of the problems that were confronting the people of the place.

The need of entertainment for the summer guests were dwelt on and plans for tennis courts, base ball team, a public park were among the subjects discussed.

The matter of a macadamized road on the junction of Main and Harper streets up Main to the entrance of Churchill park and also through Lake street to the corporation boundary was one of the subjects of the address. At the previous meeting it was decided as the sense of the meeting that resolution be placed before the vote of Stamford asking for an appropriation of $1,000 to be used by the advertising committee in other ways than in newspaper advertising. Mr. McNaught then on placing this matter before Mr. Young, he was much surprised over it and offered to add personally to the appropriation, if carried, the sum of $500.

Judge McNaught's speech contained much in regard to harmony of effort in the campaign and the needs of unity and unity of action.

Mr. J. E. Safford, the second speaker, spoke briefly, but his speech contained an announcement that was of great interest to Stamford. He said that Mr. Young had purchased the property owned by the S. E. Churchill estate known as "Hillside," located on an acreage west of the village, containing a fine residence, which he stood ready to donate to Stamford for the purpose of a hospital. This matter has been one of the things that Mr. Young has had in mind for a long time and the present purchase seems to meet the needs of the village in a time most admirably.

Professor John P. Silvernall closed the list of speakers with an enthusiastic speech, lauding the memory and character of the late Dr. S. E. Churchill and predicting the future of this town.

A letter was read by Mr. Coe of consultation of the prospects of Stamford's enterprise from the Chamber of Commerce of Kingston.

It is also stated that these two things were only the first of a series of things held during the winter to arouse enthusiasm and to keep these matters before the public eye.

Armistice Day Celebration. Under the direction and auspices of West Hubbard post of the American Legion, a celebration of Armistice day is to be held on Tuesday. The program will begin with a parade starting at 10 a. m., headed by the Hensonsville net band, in which will be the officers and sailors of the war who in this section. At 3 o'clock a public meeting will be held in the opera house at which Lieut. E. H. Woods will speak. Lieut. Woods has been in Stamford at a previous time, his hearers at that time were very enthusiastic over his address.

At 6:30 a banquet will be served by ladies of the D. A. R., to all men in uniform, with the invitation extended to their wives and sweethearts.

The evening will be taken up with military ball beginning at 9 o'clock in the opera house, with music furnished by the Albany Jazz band. An admission will be charged for this 25 cents, and the dance tickets will be sold at $1 each.

A request is made that all men who are in the service and who participate in the celebration will wear their uniforms.

Much interest is manifested in the functions outside this place and it is expected that a large attendance will witness the exercises.

Owner Edwards to Erect Garage. J. M. Edwards, who purchased last week the More property on the corner Main and Harper streets, will erect there a fire-proof garage.

The building will be situated on the corner of the lot on the site of the barn which is at present located there. There will be two entrances to the garage, one from Main street and one from Harper street, so arranged that a car can be driven in on both the first and second floors of the building.

The residence on the place will not be disturbed at present.

BLACKSMITH SAYS TROUBLE WAS WORSE THAN BEING KICKED BY HORSE

Everyone knows how blacksmiths are sometimes severely injured when kicked by horses which they are shoeing. Charles W. Cole of Laurens, N. Y., near Oneonta, the well known blacksmith, tells how his trouble was worse than an accident. He says: "I suffered with stomach trouble and biliousness for seven or eight years and I was in a run down condition. I had terrible headaches, was short of breath and had dizzy spells. I was troubled with gas on my stomach and would have sick headaches at night, which would cause vomiting spells. I can tell you I was in a miserable condition and I got so I didn't care what happened to me. I finally heard of Goldine and thought I would try it. Now I will gladly tell anyone about it."

ALL MEMBERS PRESENT AT THE OPENING SESSION IN COOP. ERSTON YESTERDAY.

William Dickson of Unadilla, Hills Post of John M. Hopkins — State Highway Department Submits Report Showing Number of Miles of State and County Roads in Otsego Towns and Amount Which Must Be Raised for Their Upkeep—Oneonta Supervisor Gets Appointment.

Cooperstown, Nov. 10 — The annual session of the board of supervisors convened at the supervisors' rooms in the court house this afternoon with Lee W. Locke of Edinboro as chairman and Dennis J. Kilkenny of Oneonta as clerk and attorney. All members were present.

Supervisor John M. Hopkins of Unadilla, who recently resigned, was succeeded by William Dickson, who was elected to that office at the recent election and takes up his duties in advance by the appointment of the Unadilla town board. Mr. Hopkins was present at the session today for the purpose of introducing Mr. Dickson and acquainting him with the ways of the county legislators. Mr. Hopkins was one of the permanent and influential members and an industrious worker on committees, and will be greatly missed. He was chairman of the important committee on equalization. Chairman Locke announced the appointment of Supervisor U. A. Ferguson of Oneonta as chairman of the equalization committee. Mr. Dickson will succeed to all the other committee assignments of Mr. Hopkins.

A communication was read from the state comptroller's office stating that the state board of equalization has fixed the aggregate valuation of property in Otsego county at $35,625,688, upon which the amount of the state tax required to be raised is $37,127.23, being one and six one-hundredths mills on a dollar. In addition to this sum, the county is required to raise the sum of $2,737 for compensation for supreme court stenographers and clerks and $6,244.44 for armory purposes. These communications were referred to the committee on finance.

The State Highway department submitted a report showing the number of miles of state and county highways in each town and the amount required to be raised for the repair and maintenance of such highways, as follows:

Miles.	Amount to Be Raised.
Burlington	6.8
Butternuts	7.01
Cherry Valley ...	6.40
Edinboro	2.70
Exeter	1.83
Harwick	4.57
Maryland	13.85
Millford	11.71
Morris	3.54
Oneonta	5.10
Otsego	8.46
Plainfield	5.30
Richfield	9.28
Roseboom	10.87
Springfield	1.33
Unadilla	1.39
Westford	9.21
Worcester	4.15
	10.04

This report was referred to the committee on town and county accounts.

Extracts from the report of the recent inspection of the county tuberculosis hospital at Mt. Vision were received from the state board of charities. The report recommends various improvements in addition to fire escapes, fire drills, night patrol, and equipment for X-ray work. This was referred to the committee on charities.

The special committee in charge of construction of the tuberculosis hospital submitted its final report, which was accepted and the committee discharged. The committee reports that since its last statement an ice house had been erected and additional plumbing and drainage work done. The balance of sums on hand at the time of the last report was $1,226.85; balance on hand at present date, $191.55.

Upon motion of Mr. Smith of Springfield, it was voted to have the proceedings of the board printed daily and copies of the previous day's session furnished the members each morning. The committee on rules and regulations was empowered to enter into a contract for 50 daily copies and 1,000 bound copies of the proceedings at the lowest price obtainable consistent with prompt and satisfactory work.

Upon the motion of Mr. Shaw, the chairman of the committee on rules and regulations, it was voted to extend the privilege of the floor to any representatives of printing firms who desired to be heard. A. Paul Cooke, of the Freeman's Journal company, who has had the contract for last year's proceedings, stated that his firm would be able to furnish completed copies of the bound proceedings within 60 to 90 days from the time of the adjournment of the session. Mr. Shaw announced that any printers desiring to meet the committee in regard to the work would have an opportunity at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Of Course I'll Take Celery King

I take it every season and so do mother and the children. It's old fashioned and made of roots and herbs, but it's right there, just the same, and comes next to nothing. We all think it's the best tonic for the system we ever heard about and so do other people. It's every other night for three weeks. It's better to feel better, sleep better, and be better. It purifies the blood, cures the skin and cures the lungs. It's the best thing I ever saw. It's the best thing I ever saw. It's the best thing I ever saw.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about 6c.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask you druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Leola Lucey drawn from actual photograph

Last night's audience mystified

Tries vainly to detect difference between voice of famous soprano and RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph

Those present at the Oneonta Theatre last night saw Leola Lucey walk onto the stage. They saw her take her position next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw her lips give voice to the opening lines of Roses of Memory. Then suddenly her lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing Miss Lucey's voice, yet Miss Lucey was not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between Miss Lucey's voice and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last night at the Oneonta Theatre by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Oneonta were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Miss Lucey made comparison after comparison. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With A Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada, $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining this test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work as unfinished.

Ask someone who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in and let us prove it personally to you.
